Grey Cup Game Sports Highlight

Grey Cup game, 1958, was one for the history books, and here members of the winning Winnipeg Blue Bombers celebrate their 35-28 victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats at Vancouver.

Van Pelt, Richard, Baldwin Stood Out

Canada Did Well at Home

By The Canadian Press

Jimmy Van Pelt, a rookie professional football player who refused to panic . . . Maurice Richard, who defied the march of time . . . Yvon Durelle, a flustered fighting fisherman . . . Matt Baldwin, a perfectionist with a curling stone.

These were some of the personalities who took over centre stage in Canada's 1958 year of sport at home. On the international scale, athletes of almost every description roamed to far-off places, some returning with world honors and others with nothing to show except possibly hard-earned experience against the world's best.

The show at home was much better in many cases than the exhibitions put on by the touring athletes.

Richard, 37-year-old veteran of professional hockey, returned from a serious injury to lead Montreal Canadiens to their 10th Stanley Cup title in the spring and last month scored his 600th goal in league and cup play over a career stretching into its 17th season. Ivan Pelt, a 23-year-old quarterback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, staged almost a one-man show as the Bombers turned on the highly-favored Hamilton Tiger-Cats to win a 35-28 Grey Cup triumph at Vancouver.

Bombers trailed, 14-0, after seven minutes and it appeared to be curtains for the Westerners, but the University of Michigan import playing in his first pro season, did everything but lead the band in the half-time show.

He scored two touchdowns, kicked two field goals and four converts for a 22-point afternoon, the greatest individual one-game scoring spree in the 49-year history of the cup.

Baldwin, 31-year-old petroleum engineer from Edmonton, skipped his Alberta rink to the 1958 Canadian title. It was his third championship in this world series of curling, tying the record set by Ken Watson of Winnipeg. Baldwin skipped title-winning rinks previously in 1954 and 1957.

Durelle, from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., made an incredible bid to lift the world light-heavyweight boxing crown from Archie Moore at Montreal in December. After it was over he confessed 't'he was over he confessed 'the He knocked the titleholder down twice in the first round for eight counts, dumped him again for a six count in the fifth. But he suffered an inferiority complex in the fight that ended in the 11th round with Durelle on the canvas.

Skimming the records recalls these other achievements:

Hockey—Belleville won the Allan Cup and Ottawa-Hull Canadiens the Memorial Cup. Shawinigan Falls Cataracts won the Quebec League championship and Vancouver Canucks the Western League title.

Football—The West made a clean sweep with championships in the Grey Cup by Winnipeg, intermediate by Fort William Redskins, junior by Saskatoon Hilltops and a 9-3 decision over the East in the all-star Shrine game.

Sarnia Golden Bears won the Ontario Rugby Football Union title and University of Toronto Blue the senior intercollegiate crown.

Horse racing: Caledon Beau, owned by Conn Smythe, Toronto, won the Queen's Plate and an American-owned horse, Jack Ketch, the $60,000 Canadian Championship.

Lacrosse—New Westminster Salmonbellies won the senior title and Brampton Excelsiors the junior.

Basketball — Vancouver Ellers won both the men's and women's senior titles and Victoria Vikings the junior.

Figure-skating —Charles Snelling, Toronto, won the Canadian men's senior title and Margaret Crosland, Winnipeg, the women's crown. Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul, both Toronto, captured the pairs title.

Boxing — George Chuvalo, Toronto, won the vacant Canadian heavyweight title by knocking out James J. Parker, Barrie, Ont.

Fielder Far Ahead In Western League

Guyle Fielder, Seattle Totems' brilliant play-making centre, continues to hold down first place in the Western Hockey League's individual scoring race with 56 points.

He has scored only 12 goals but leads the league in assists with 44.

Max Mekilok of the Spokane Spokes trails Fielder by 15 points. He has 16 goals and 25 assists for a point total of 41.

ROOKIE THIRD

Rookie Gerry Brisson of the Winnipeg Warriors is third with 40 points on 16 goals and 24 assists.

Frank Arnett of Seattle has taken a commanding lead in the penalty parade with 104 minutes. Kent Douglas of Vancouver Canucks follows with 95 minutes.

Lions' Profit $12,955 For 1958 Season

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions, last place finishers in the Western Interprovincial Football Union in 1958, showed a profit of $12,955 for the year's operations, bringing to $211,581 the club's accumulated surplus.

The club had revenues of $563,966 and expenditures of $551,011. Largest single expense item listed was $357,051 for salaries to coaches and players. Gate receipts totalled $399,508 for league games while exhibitions brought $44,104.

Lions, who entered the WIFU in 1954, had a surplus of $198,625 after the 1957 season and this year's profits bring to $211,581 the club's cash assets after five years of operation, none of which saw Lions make the league playoffs.

Duncan Rink Wins Prizes At Cloverdale

DUNCAN — Bill Wadsworth's Duncan rink, skipped by youthful Freddy Duncan, returned home this week with the major prizes from the Christmas Bonspiel at Cloverdale.

Wadsworth's rink, which had Frank Moulin throwing lead rocks and Ollie Panzer as vice-skip, won the grand aggregate and grand challenge. In the finals of the grand challenge, Wadsworth's rink came from behind to take an 8-7 verdict from Tom Dickson of Cloverdale after an extra end.

Dickson led all the way in the final but strategy which caused behind-the-glass skips to shake their heads may have cost him the win. Leading by 6-5, Dickson intentionally blanked the 10th end with a chance to score one and although he counted once on the 11th, it wasn't enough to win.

TWO FINE SHOTS

Duncan came through with two fine shots on the 12th end to tie the score and the Wadsworth rink counted on the extra end.

A 10-1 record in the 44-rink bonspiel won the grand aggregate prize. Wadsworth's only defeat came in the eights of the second primary.

A former Duncan curler who is now manager of the Cloverdale club, Tony Folk, skipped a Cloverdale rink to a win in one of the two secondary competitions.

End Don Joyce In for Marchetti

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don Joyce has been named by coach Weeb Ewbank of Baltimore Colts to replace Gino Marchetti on the all-star West team in the National League pro bowl, Jan. 11 in Los Angeles.

Marchetti fractured his ankle Sunday when the Colts beat New York Giants for the league championship. Both Marchetti and Joyce are defensive ends.

"F-O-R-E"
A Happy New Year

I got in that tournament on Boxing Day,
On the sporty lay-out . . . here in Oak Bay;
I "sliced-off" from the tee . . . number eleven—
Then wiggled out of the bunker, with "a Seven."

I "topped" to the green with arms like bricks,
And felt like a "Pro" . . 'cause I got a six.
The other 3 guys . . . all bundled in folds,
Phil Nesbit . . . George Ford . . . & Tommy Moulds.
Pretty fast company for the likes of me,
And later I waggled up on the 14th tee.
A "Dog's Leg" they call it, in golfing strife,
And I too . . . here . . . led a dog's life.
Loooooong hitters like Scroggs, & Bill McColl,
Orbit over the trees . . . which are fairly tall,
So I . . . s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d MY luck, as I always do,
Thinking of course . . . I could "pull" smack thru.
The sun came out . . . so I took off one sweater,
My "slicing" then . . . seemed a little bettter.
Then we came to the 6th . . . & I can't explain,

But I Dunlopped my ball in that yawning "vol-cane."
I was tempted to leave it, deep in that pit,
But I stumbled down in . . . & blasted a hit.
I crawled to the top, to faint on the fence,
My legs more weak . . . my arms more tense.
I thot I should quit & go home to bed,
But I wolfed a hot-dog & collapsed in a shed.
They revived me in here, with mustard . . . more "dogs."
So the next ball I drove, hit the beach logs.
I wasn't quite conscious the rest of the holes,
'Tho I still heard the voice of Tommy Moulds.
Urging me on . . . as a guy yelled "f-o-R-E",
"And DON'T" . . . pleaded Tommy, "Tear Up Your Score."
I finished somehow . . . heard "The Doctor" came first,
And a little later . . . that I WAS THE WORST.
They called it "high gross"—& gave me a prize,

And said nice things 'bout "the fellow who tries."
So — Happy New Year . . . hope YOU hit 'em farrrrrrrrrrrrr
And get around next year . . . & DO IT IN PAR."
